Executive Producer: Elie Dekel and Rami Yanni

A promise is a pledge that you make

Something you say that you'll do
A promise is the action you take
When others are counting on you

Your actions speak louder than any of the words you say
So be smart and be true and keep your promise every day
A promise can be big or be small
It doesn't really matter at all

You gotta keep your promises
You gotta keep your promises
Whatever you do, you know it's all up to you
Just keep your promises

If you promise that you'll clean up your room
Don't say that you'll get to it soon
If you promise that you'll help out a friend
Make sure you see it through to the end

Your actions speak louder than any of the words you say
So be smart and be true and keep your promise every day
A promise can be big or be small
It doesn't really matter at all

You gotta keep your promises
You gotta keep your promises
Whatever you do, you know it's all up to you
Just keep your promises

When you keep your promise your mom and dad will see
What a kind and thoughtful person you're growing up to be
